

Jai Arya

Jai Arya works with the National University of Singapore Business School, where he is Senior Adviser to the Dean and Head of Executive Education. Arya is an independent director of Max Financial Services, the parent company of Max Life Insurance, India's largest non-bank owned private insurance company. He is also a Non-Executive Director of OMFIF (Official Monetary and Financial Institutions Forum)- which is an independent UK based think tank for central banking, economic policy, and public investment. Arya has been a Senior Adviser for Asian banking to a leading global consulting firm, as well as consulted on a project basis for the Asian Development Bank.

Arya retired as an Executive Vice President from Bank of New York Mellon in 2014, after spending 27 years with the bank in management roles across various Asian locations (Singapore, Taiwan, South Korea, and India). His last assignment was Global Head of their Sovereign Institutions Group and Chairman of their Sovereign Advisory Board. Arya was also on the bank's Global Operating Committee as well as the Asia Pacific Executive Committee. Prior to joining BNY Mellon, Arya worked for Bank of America in India, Hong Kong and briefly in the Philippines.

Arya holds a BA (Honours) in Economics from St. Stephens College in Delhi and an MBA from the Faculty of Management Studies at Delhi University.